

Notice Regarding Potential Recording Delays

Our office strives to record documents expeditiously in the order they are received; however, there may be times that unforeseeable circumstances may result in the delay of recording your document, such as delayed mail delivery, software failures, and natural disasters. If you have a time-sensitive document, we suggest you bring it into one of our locations or use an e-recording vendor.